Whether natural or humanmade, critical events are happening at an increasing rate, and will inevitably impact individuals and their organizations at any level. But what if technology could act as a shield and sword to withstand critical events without a significant impact to your people or operations?

Everbridge Critical Event Management (CEM) empowers companies to achieve organization-wide resiliency to succeed in the face of crisis. Enhancements to crisis response, business continuity management, and crisis preparedness are top priorities for organizations at any scale.

Everbridge CEM digitally transforms a company's crisis and business continuity program. By automating the lifecycle of how organizations prepare and respond to critical events, and with multiple technology components operating seamlessly together in the cloud, and also integrating cooperatively on premise when needed.

Atos provides expertise and resources to manage and operate customer environments.

Together, Atos and Everbridge combine world-class expertise, technology, and global resources to mitigate the impact of critical events, specifically those that affect the digital environments of modern organizations.

We enable organizations to manage the full lifecycle of critical events such as cyber attacks, major outages or disruptions. Additionally, we empower DevOps teams to outperform traditional team models through digital transformation.

Through real-time threat intelligence, situational awareness, and integrated response and collaboration across the enterprise, security and risk professionals can better mitigate or eliminate the impact of critical events to their organization.
